JANESVILLE, THURSDAY, MAY 29.

THE HEROIC DEAD.

Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the purpose that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting-place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate we cannot hallow this ground. The great men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.—LINCOLN.

A LACK OF HONESTY.

Judge Prendergast, of Chicago, a democrat and a Catholic, a man of learning and of much personal independence, has written a letter on the educational law of this state, which is printed in the Chicago Herald. The Herald, in commenting on the letter, gives it its hearty endorsement and says:

"The judge declares, as the Herald has declared, that the Bennett law in Wisconsin is in most respects a wise measure, and asserts that the opposition to it must have sprung from the misconceptions of people who have not taken the trouble to read it. The Herald commends his paper to the attention of the democrats of Wisconsin, among whom there is no more stalwart Jefferson than Judge Prendergast himself."

If Judge Prendergast, a democrat and a Catholic, can find wisdom and justice in the Wisconsin educational law, why can't the average democrat of this state? There is not a sensible democrat in all the state who will, as an American citizen, condemn the essential features of the so-called Bennett law. Every one of them believes in the state looking after the education of its children, and all of them heartily endorse the provision that the children of foreign born parents should learn to speak and write the language of the country. But the average democrat is not as honest and independent as Judge Prendergast. The party leaders lack honesty. They don't want the truth told about the educational law. They are extremely anxious that race prejudice shall be aroused against it. They are willing to trim, to denounce the law, to demand its repeal, to stir up religious prejudice against compulsory education—they are willing to do any act, however inconsistent to justice and wisdom, to carry the state.

It would be excellent missionary work to send broadcast over the state the letter of Judge Prendergast and the remarks thereon by the democratic Chicago Herald.

THE CHURCH AND POLITICS.

One thing is very sure, the German Catholics will not reap dividends from such a meeting as they have held in Milwaukee. There is no profit in it for them. There is no occasion for such a gathering. No political party has attacked their religion or their schools. No legislature has enacted a law or has ever attempted to enact one which would in anywise effect their church or the teaching of their religion to their heart's content in all the parochial schools. Then why do these German Catholics, with as much ability as any othe church on this continent, meet to organize a political movement, and to prejudice their people against an educational law which seeks only to train children in intelligence, so that they may become better citizens? The legislature of Wisconsin has no more right to attempt to interfere with parochial schools in Wisconsin than has the emperor of China. Suppose the Presbyterians, or the Baptists, or the Episcopalians, should have met in a convention similar to that held in Milwaukee, what would the German Catholics or even anybody else, think of it? Why, the Protestant denomination that would attempt such a thing would receive the criticism of the press of the country. It is a bad sign when a church, it makes no difference what denomination it is, meets in a convention of that sort to work out a political campaign, and denounce one of the wisest educational laws our state ever enacted. A movement of that kind is not in harmony with the spirit of christianity.

The total barley crop of the United States does not amount to 50,000,000 bushels, which is not enough to supply the home demand. Maltsters are therefore obliged to import about 10,000,000 bushels a year from Canada to make up the deficit. The McKinley bill, in order to destroy this trade, proposes to increase the present duty of 10 cents a bushel on barley to thirty cents a bushel. The Canadians, in retaliation, are raising their tariff on western corn, pork, and beef enough to balance the fall-off on barley. The effect of this increase would be to send the Canadian barley to other markets, and to reduce brewers to an increased use of glucose and other cheap substitutes for barley malt. English and German brewers will use the superior Canadian barley, and American consumers will have to put up with inferior beer. But this barley duty is entirely consistent with the rest of the McKinley bill.—Philadelphia Record.

If that tariff does a no worse thing than increase the price of beer no harm will be done. But the Record does not state the facts. Barley has been lower during the past year than for a good many years. It was a drug on the market. The crop seemed to be more than enough and the price was beggardly low. What was the cause of this? Simply this, that with imported barley the supply was far greater than the demand. The Record should study up on the barley product of the country before it attempts to write down the tariff on that product.

In discussing the inequalities of the new tariff bill, which many republican senators desire to modify so as to harmonize with the letter and spirit of the republican platform of 1888, Mr. Butterworth made a few remarks which should catch the ear of every republican. Speaking about the feature of equality in the should-be tariff bill. "The present tariff bill violates this principle of equality. The agriculturists were sacrificed to other interests, I can name upon my ten fingers men whose combined profits in the last decade have exceeded those of all the agriculturists in any state in the union. Why, sir, there has not been a time in two decades when my countrymen have not produced copper as cheap as any other nation in the world, and most of the time cheaper, and yet we have these people, who, on an investment equaling $1,250,000, have taken out over $60,000,000 in dividends in nineteen years, coming and asking additional protection!" Senator Cameron, of Pennsylvania, thinks the senate will make such changes in the bill, as shall be necessary to make it more in keeping with the spirit of the times, and especially to make it in harmony with the promises of the national republican convention.

That portion of the census relating to state and local indebtedness, is nearly completed, and the debts of the states is set down at $228,679,817. Ten years ago the debt was $54,459,000 greater. The decrease of geographical divisions is as follows:

	Total in 1890.	Dec. since 1880.
Eastern states.....	$39,974,166	$11,256,117
Middle states.....	33,498,412	11,357,482
Southern states....	107 616,077	28,022,964
Western states.....	47,591,261	3,752,900
Totals.....	$228,679,817	$54,459,484

The county indebtedness, according to the returns from 2,808 counties, is $130,734,000, an increase of $26,000,000 in the past ten years.

Sam Jones has opened his tabernacle or church at Cartersville, Georgia, for the auction sale of town lots, and so on. It will be a sort of a board of trade. A brass band will be on hand, and free lectures will be given. Sam has probably forgotten an incident that happened once in Judea, when the man who lightened the world took a whip and drove the money changers out of the temple. But then, Sam never does things that Christ did, and so it makes no difference.

Secretary Tracy has ordered that all war vessels in New York harbor shall take a position opposite General Grant's tomb on Decoration day, and fire minute salutes during the impressive services at Riverside.

A $30,000,000 Mortgage.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 29.—The Secretary of State to-day recorded a mortgage made by the Chicago and Northern Pacific railroad company in favor of the Farmers' Loan and Trust company of New York, to the amount of $30,000,000 to cover outstanding indebtedness against certain branches and to secure funds to develop and complete new lines. The bonds will run until 1949 and draw 5 per cent interest payable semi-annually.

Wreck on the Union Pacific.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 29.—Westbound passenger-train No. 3 on the Union Pacific was wrecked near the Dalles by running into a sand-drift on a curve. The engine, baggage and mail car were derailed, and the latter was badly smashed. The engineer, fireman, and two mail clerks were injured.

Illinois Prohibition Ticket.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., May 29.—The State convention of Illinois prohibitionists nominated Robert Link, a Franklin county farmer, for State Treasurer, and Prof. Carl Johann, of Eureka, for Superintendent of Public Instruction. Three trustees of the University of Illinois, at Champaign, were also nominated.

Canadian Carpenters Barred Out.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Secretary Windom has written Immigrant Inspector Fitch that contracts made with Canadian carpenters coming here in response to an advertisement offering them steady work at certain wages are violations of the alien contract labor law.

Strange Disappearance at Joliet.

JOLIET, Ill., May 29.—John Reinhart, aged 72 years, is missing. Before his disappearance he sold a block, getting $10,000; he also drew $1,000 from a homestead association. His family fear that he has become suddenly demented or has been murdered.

Will Pursue the Redskins.

TUCSON, A. T., May 28.—General Miles has issued an order for United States troops to pursue the band of Indians who murdered Attorney Hardie near Tombstone, in the same manner that Geronimo was pursued. The band will be executed when captured, as they were before sentenced to be hanged, but escaped by murdering the sheriff.

Literally Burned Alive.

BELOIT, Wis., May 28.—Mrs. Jonathan Perkins, aged over 70 years, wife of an old resident of this city was literally roasted alive by her clothing catching on fire from a bon-fire. Her daughter and neighbors fought for the woman's life, but without avail, as she can not possibly survive. This is the second fatal burning of old ladies in this city within a month.

WHITE CAPS AT WORK

Terrible Punishment Inflicted Upon Two Indiana Women by a Party of White Caps

A RUPTURE BETWEEN GERMANY AND RUSSIA INEVITABLE.

Bismarck Said to Be Working in Harmony with the Emperor—General Foreign News.

LONDON, May 29.—There is the highest authority for saying that the newspaper rumors to the effect that a serious misunderstanding exists between the Emperor of Germany and Prince Bismarck are entirely without foundation. The ex-Chancellor in reality still retains a guarding, if secret, influence over the policy of Germany, and at the present moment is engaged in carrying out a mission of the highest importance. The Emperor's government is convinced that a war with Russia can not be postponed beyond the end of the present year, the aim of that power being to seriously cripple if not entirely destroy the Austrian monarchy so as to restore the semi-independence of Bosnia and Herzegovina, and enable Russia to resume her sway over Servia and Bulgaria, with a view to ultimately marching on Constantinople.

It is to foil these ambitious schemes that Prince Bismarck has been asked by the Emperor to leave Friedrichsruhe. On pretense of making a social visit to England he will during his residence here use all his diplomatic art to induce Lord Salisbury to enter the Dreibund and thus place still another obstacle in the way of Russian aggression.

POLITICS NOT IN IT.

Herbert Bismarck's Visit to England Was Purely Social.

LONDON, May 29.—Now that Count Herbert von Bismarck has returned to Germany it is stated that his visit here was wholly unconnected with politics. He came here for recreation and spent his time in visiting the many friends he has in England, as well as social circles.

Prince Bismarck has accepted an invitation from the Prince of Wales, and will visit England in June. It is expected he will witness the Derby in company with the Prince of Wales. He will have a rousing reception in this country, where his popularity has increased since his resignation.

MAJ. PANITZA'S TRIAL.

Counsel for the Alleged Conspirator Expelled for His Offensive Speech.

VIENNA, May 29.—The trial of Maj. Panitza and his accomplices for conspiracy continues at Sofia amid scenes of great excitement. The accused evidently have strong support from abroad, and are bold in their defense.

The counsel for Panitza who opened for the defense has been expelled for his offensive speech of yesterday, in which he transcended his privilege as advocate in making a violent attack upon the government.

Fund for a Well-Known Man.

LONDON, May 29.—Lord Spencer is acting as chairman of a committee formed to raise a fund in acknowledgment of the services of George Bullen of the British museum. Mr. Bullen has been on duty at the museum more than fifty years in the reading-room and as keeper of printed books, and is now about to retire. He is well known to many Americans. He published a work on early English literature. Gen. John Meridith Read and B. F. Stevens, Americans, of Trafalgar square, are on the committee.

FLOGGED BY WHITE CAPS.

Terrible Punishment Inflicted on Two Women at Corydon, Ind.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 29.—A band of white caps, thirty in number, visited Corydon, Ind., at 1 o'clock this morning and proceeded to the house occupied by Lucy Foyes and Jane Fray, two women of questionable reputation. The women were dragged from bed, taken to the edge of town, tied to trees and flogged until both had fainted from pain. Their thongs were then cut and the white caps departed, leaving their victims lying where they had fallen, at the foot of the trees, limp and insensible. Besides their general bad character, the two women were suspected of having set recent fires at the fair grounds near Corydon.

Killed by a Crazy Fellow Workman.

ST. LOUIS, May 29.—Henry Hall, a farm hand working near Sikeston, Mo., was shot dead yesterday by a fellow farm hand named Haines. The men had apparently been close friends. Haines fired without any warning. As he fled he cried out: "He only came here to find out what he could do about the James boys." It is supposed that Haines had suddenly become crazy. He is said to have well-to-do relatives in St. Louis. A posse is after him.

Killed for His Money.

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 29.—Prof. G. W. Southwick, an artist formerly connected with Callahan college, was found in his studio to-day fatally stabbed. His pockets had been rifled and the contents of his trunk were scattered about, indicating that the deed was done for robbery. The crime is completely enshrouded in mystery.

Bloody Battle at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 29.—In a fight here early this morning between Ike Farrell and Pete Walker the latter was knocked out in the twenty-first round. It was a bloody fight and both men were badly punished, and at the end of the battle Walker was so weak that he had to be carried from the ring.

A Boy's Fatal Mistake.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 29.—While picking mulberries near Center Point, Ark., a young man named James Austin was fatally shot by a 16-year-old boy named White. Austin had climbed to the top of the tree and White mistook him for a squirrel.

Will Build a Big Hotel in New York.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Astors have contracted to build a hotel here for George C. Boldt of Philadelphia which will cost from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. It will be located at Thirty-third street and Fifth avenue.

Running a Barrel a Minute.

RISING SUN, Ohio, May 29.—The John Phillips oil-well is running a barrel a minute, and the oil excitement is great. At Prairie Station, four miles distant, a 500-barrel well was opened Monday.

ICE FAMINE IN GOTHAM.

The Scarcity Causes Advance in Prices of Many Articles of Food.

NEW YORK, May 29.—As the warm weather approaches the ice question becomes more serious. Each week for a month there has been a sharp rise in the price. The worst of it is, apparently, that there is no fixed price adhered to, but the dealers are charging about what they can extort from the public. A reporter who made a tour through part of Brooklyn and the Fulton and Washington markets, was told by retail butchers they were paying various prices, 50, 60, 70, and 75 cents a hundred pounds.

Wholesale butchers or storage warehouse men who bought by the ton were paying $6 to $10 and one man $12 a ton. Within the week dealers expect to be paying $10 a ton all around wholesale and $1 a 100 pounds retail. Storage warehouse men have put up their prices for keeping poultry, game, meats, etc., from ½ a cent a pound a month to 2-3 of a cent, and have added 5 cents a package on other storage articles. Saturday makers of ice cream put up their prices 25 per cent. Many fish dealers have tacked on 1 cent a pound.

THEY GUYED THE SHOW.

Ann Arbor Students Get Into a Fight With a Circus Crew.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 29.—During a performance of Franklin's circus here 300 students from the university guyed the show. When the performance was finished and most of the audience dispersed the students, who remained in the tent, gave a college yell.

This demonstration was followed by an attack from about twenty circus men armed with cubs, who advanced shouting their war cry, "Hey, Rube." The students, surprised by the attack, fell back with several broken heads, but soon rallied. In the melee, several pistol shots were fired, and a circus man dropped, shot in the shoulder. Ten students and as many circus men are in the hands of physicians. Several arrests of both circus men and students have occurred. None of the injuries are supposed to be fatal.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY.

Old Soldiers Having a Pleasant Reunion at Vicksburg.

VICKSBURG, Miss., May 29.—The third day of the reunion of the blue and the gray was one of great interest. At 3 o'clock Gen. C. E. Hooker, the silver-tongued orator of Mississippi, delivered the address. He was followed by Commander Kountz and others. At 5 o'clock there was a grand balloon ascension by Prof. Thompson of Quincy, Ill. He came down with his parachute in the lake, but was not injured. The city is thronged with visitors.

THE BOYCOTT DECLARED OFF.

The Town of Warren, Ind., Given a New Lease of Life.

DECATUR, Ind., May 29.—The boycott recently instituted by the Farmers' Alliance against the business-men of Warren, which caused wide-spread interest, has been declared at an end, and now all interests are harmonious. The News of that place, which suspended, will resume publication, and the tri-county fair managers have determined to go ahead with the exhibit.

The Gas Trust Beaten.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Judge Collins has rendered a decision in the case of Francis M. Charlton against the gas trust, in which he dealt a knock-out blow to the latter corporation. Judge Collins' decision was a very long one, but the gist of it was that he would appoint a receiver for the gas trust. He also enjoined the gas trust and the four gas companies of which it is composed from turning over any stock, money, or assets to the Fidelity Safe Deposit and Trust company of Philadelphia. Lawyer Goudy, in behalf of the trust, tried to arrange matters so that he could be allowed to argue on the matter of appointing a receiver, but the judge overruled him.

JOHN L. IS A HARD HITTER.

So Says Kilrain, and He Ought to Know.

CINCINNATI, O., May 29.—Jake Kilrain passed through the city en route to New York. He stopped two hours at the Grand Central depot. He says he was treated like a prince in Mississippi, and also expressed the belief that Sullivan was the hardest hitter in the world.

A Case of "Have To."

Where we can CONTROL we don't have to wait, but can and do go right ahead and carry into effect our promises. But the electric lights have been one of those cases where we have to wait on the motion of others. Moreover we are glad to say that the poles are up and it now looks as if we should get lights in Riverview Park during the coming ten days. We hope so. Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

With Our Water System and Electric Lights

Riverview and Glen-Etta (the little darling) are the most desirable and charming of all residence sections in this city. You can have a home there if you choose. We are not URGING these additions at all but still we WILL sell home sites while we are willing to hold and wait.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

But While We Are Talking.

We do want to sell about a dozen Home sites to early builders, in FOREST PARK; and to do this within the next thirty days, we are proposing to name prices so low that we will accomplish it SURE. In this section too, we are putting in a water main and we can furnish connection with it to every lot in the section. No Home sites in Wisconsin can be more desirable than we shall make these before we get through with them.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

We Have a Tract

Of little less than two acres fronting on Dickson, Gove and South Bluff streets, just south of Riverview Park, a most charming Villa site. It is covered with a beautiful Grove and presents more attractions for a $10,000 house than any other property in the state, of like size. Yet we hardly expect to sell it for a Villa either; we ought to do so. You can buy a full sized lot in it cheap. Come and see us.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

Here They Are, Just Look at Them.

The Henry Crane Home, on Center avenue, will sell at $1,000 below a price that would be cheap.

The Doctor Wm. Judd Home on North Bluff street, is going to be sold. You want it but unless you buy soon, you will lose it.

The Fifield Sisters Home, 218 South Main street, is offered by us at a less price than was ever named for it before, and it has just been put in most complete order.

Then there is the Alden Home on South Main street. We have not talked much about it, but some man is going to get in it a home that he would not sell for $2,000 more than it will cost him if he buys it soon. Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

For an Investment and Home Combined

The Treat place, corner Linn and North streets, "take the cake." A wise man with moderate wants and a small capital can here buy a property and live in one of the houses and rent the others for enough to support his family. A LAZY MAN can take this property and sit right there and collect his rents and live without ever doing another stroke of work. Just vegetate, you know.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

We Have a Central Business Property

For Improvement, that with our side tracks and other things that will soon come to our goodly city, is worth double what we ask for it. To any one who wants SAFE AND SURE investment this is a rare offering indeed.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

Keep Your Eyes on Us

For the next few weeks. We have the PULL on some more "unspung surprises" that when they GO OFF will attract much attention, and cause much comment; so keep your eyes open. The effect will be to advance the price and value of every foot of property we now offer. And we are just the man and woman who will be sure to ask a proper advance. Still, we are just the people who are glad to give the "sooner" purchaser a bargain, even when we know we can do better to HOLD. "A word to the wise sometimes gathers no moss", but when you come to quoting SOME SAYINGS and poetry we are right there or thereabouts.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO.

ITS ESTABLISHMENT SETTLED BEYOND DOUBT.

The Baptists Have Raised the Amount Necessary to Make Mr. Rockefeller's Gift Available.

CHICAGO, May 29.—It was the second anniversary which the American Baptist Educational Society celebrated at Immanuel church, and the deliberations of that body were presided over by Hon. George A. Pillsbury of Minneapolis. A resolution from the Southern Baptist convention, congratulating the society upon securing $1,000,000 for the university, was read by the secretary. The report of the executive board was read by Rev. F. T. Gates. The board congratulated the society upon the amount of money contributed to the various Baptist colleges and universities during the year. In speaking of the Chicago university, the board said that the accomplishment of this great object had been their main effort. The report spoke highly of the services of Dr. T. W. Goodspeed in helping to raise the fund. It was due to his efforts that the present measure of success had been obtained.

Dr. Goodspeed was then introduced and made a report of the work done by him. The announcement that $1,000,000 had been raised was received with great applause, and when Dr. Goodspeed said that the $600,000 given by Mr. Rockefeller had been covered the audience became very enthusiastic. He said the trustees had decided to name the institution "The University of Chicago." The main contribution was that of John D. Rockefeller of $600,000. E. Nelson Blake gave $50,000 and Marshall Field had given the site. The citizens of Chicago had given in all $232,000, and the churches had all contributed various sums, the amount of which could not at present be stated. Dr. Goodspeed spoke in high terms of the liberality of the people, and complimented the Standard club upon its munificent gift to the fund.

In concluding his report Dr. Goodspeed said that the new university was to be a Christian institution, to be ever under the auspices of the Baptists, and to be conducted in a spirit of the greatest liberality.

Resolutions of thanks to the subscribers to the fund and to Dr. Goodspeed were introduced by Dr. Link of Texas, and unanimously adopted.

The following officers were elected: President, George A. Pillsbury; vice-presidents, Rev. Samuel Duncan and R. W. Dudley; recording secretary, A. K. Parkes; corresponding secretary, F. T. Gates; treasurer, Joshua Levering; auditor, Colgate Hoyt; executive board, R. C. Fox, H. K. Porter, George D. Boardman, E. Levering, James Pollard, John Powell, E. L. Hedstrum and R. M. Dudley.

Wisconsin Catholics Adjourn.

MILWAUKEE, May 28.—The convention of German Catholic societies adjourned, after completing the election of officers and passing resolutions providing for a plan of organization for the coming State campaign.

German Reformed Church Conference.

LEBANON, Pa., May 29.—The triennial conference of the general synod of the German reformed church of the United States opened here to-day, delegates being present from all the local synods of the country. The gathering is of more than ordinary importance from the fact that action will be taken upon the proposal to unite with the reformed church in America (Dutch). There is a wide diversity of opinion regarding the wisdom of the proposition, and the outcome is in doubt. The conference will be in session until June 5.

HAD FAMILIES IN TWO STATES.

James Wilson Taken from His Indiana Home to Answer a Charge of Bigamy.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., May 29.—About twenty years ago James Wilson left this county and went to Missouri, where he settled and married. Domestic troubles caused separation, and he came back to Owen county. There he acquired considerable wealth and married again. To-day William Andrews, a deputy sheriff of Clark county, Ill., came here and took him from the bosom of his second family to the bosom of his first, to answer to the charge of bigamy.

BEATEN AT THE CHURCH DOOR.

A Michigan Preacher Brutally Pounded by Roughs.

HILLSDALE, Mich., May 29.—At the close of a religious meeting which O. C. Nash of this city was conducting at Mosherville, this county, he was pounced upon at the church door by Moses Ackles and Robert Ingals of that place and knocked down. One of them sat on the prsstrate preacher while the other pounded him with a club. At first his hurts were not supposed to be serious, but the doctors say Nash was injured internally and will prabably die. Both miscreants are in jail now awaiting developments.

SIGHS FOR A MONASTERY.

A Welsh Baron Anxious to Pass His Remaining Days as a Monk.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, May 29.—Benjamin Evans, a Welsh Baron, has appeared at the Trappist monastery in this county and desires to become a member of the order. He is the eldest son of an aristocratic family in Wales and has permitted his younger brother to live on the estate and enjoy the title. He has a large income, which he has used in traveling about the world, but he has become disgusted with life and is anxious to pass the remainder of his days in monastic retirement and the service of God.

An Old Lady Tires of Her Bargain.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 29.—Mrs. Mary Zschiesche, 61 years old, is suing for a divorce from her husband, Ernest Zschiesche, aged 56. The plaintiff was a Mrs. Schwent and inherited $30,000 from her first husband. By an antenuptial agreement Zschiesche was not to work at anything, but live off his wife's capital. When the flames of love began to cool she sought to drive him out to work, but he declined.

Hope for Ex-Secretary McCrary.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 29.—The condition of ex-Secretary of War George W. McCrary has greatly improved during the last twenty-four hours and his physicians have strong hopes of his complete recovery.

YOU HARDLY REALIZE THAT IT IS MEDICINE when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills; they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

A Beautiful Magazine.

The Chicago Journal says: "Not content with beating the world with its art calendars for 1890, the Chicago & Grand Trunk railway has now eclipsed its own record by the publication of a magazine entitled 'Gateways of Tourist Travel.' The work is elegantly gotten up and contains a host of the finest photogravure views of scenes along the line of the road. The whole forms a work of art."

This beautiful book is printed on coated book paper, with seventy-five engravings, all of the photogravure or half-tone process, fifty large quarto pages and mailed free to any address on receipt of 20 cents in postage stamps by W. E. Davis, G. P. & T. A., Chicago & Grand Trunk Railway, Chicago, Ill.

The sale of summer tourists' tickets commences June 1. The "Seaside and White Mountain Special," finest train in the world, will be run each Wednesday, commencing with June 25. Write for particulars.

STRICTLY PERSONAL.

Steve Brodie, the bridge jumper, and his wife have become reconciled.

John Stephenson, the street-car builder, will be 81 years old July 4.

Julius Stern is a blind man of New York who can play billiards and make many difficult shots.

Jules Ferry has at last shaved off the drooping side-whiskers that long served the caricaturists so well.

The Queen of the Belgians is one of the best equestrians in that country and can drive a six-in-hand with grace and safety.

Stephen A. Douglas is said to realize only about $100 a year from the plantation in Mississippi which cost his father $115,000.

Howard Furniss, the caricaturist of Punch, has made many enemies among the Royal Academicians by poking pictorial fun at them.

Sir Charles Ross, ninth baronet of that famous house, is a famous short-distance runner. He is only 18 years old and is a student at Eton.

Henry Carey Baird, of Philadelphia, has caused a portrait of General Meade to be printed for presentation to the West Point Military academy.

Earl Spencer, a possible successor to Gladstone, is fifty-five and a tall man with an enormous red mustache and beard. His face is narrow but full of strength.

Dan Rice, the old circus clown, was given a benefit at the Union Square theater in New York Sunday evening. J. Minor Griswold took part in the entertainment.

"My son," said Senator Brown of Georgia, to a reporter who asked him if he was, as reported, worth a million dollars; "my son, a million dollars is a mighty big lot of money," and that was all he would say.

Webb McNall, who is likely to make off with the Republican nomination for Congress in the Sixth district of Kansas, was at one time a night watchman in the capitol building at Washington. He is a practicing attorney now and 42 years of age.

Richard Vaux, the Democratic nominee for Congress in Randall's old district, never wore an overcoat. Another claim to distinction is that when he was secretary of the American legation in London in 1836 he danced a set with Queen Victoria.

Dion Boucicault, strolling about the London book stalls twenty years ago, picked up Gerald Griffin's "Collegians," read it, shut himself up with it, and in three days had produced "The Colleen Bawn," the most famous Irish play ever written, which has earned for its author over $100,000.

The Emperor of Germany has his cards like other mortals. They are very simple, although those of the German nobility are generally very highly decorated with crests and crowns. The royal cards have absolutely no ornamentation. In plain gothic letters they read: "Wilhelm, German Emperor and King of Prussia."

Chauncey M. Depew says he would not sit down with thirteen at table. "Three times in my life I have been one of a dinner party of thirteen. On each occasion one passed the joke to the other that he or she would be the victim. In every instance one of the guests died within the year. So, in my experience, the truth of the adage was proven."

Judge Thomas M. Cooley, chairman of the Inter-state commerce commission, has so far recovered his health as to be able to return to Washington. He will resume his duties on the commission, but will not work so hard as he has heretofore. He has been warned by his physicians that he must go slowly or the consequences may be serious.

HINTS OF THE FASHIONS.

The open jacket with the high Medici collar is the first favorite.

Bonnets are stringless, or they have mere strips for strings—but strings, like veils, are optional.

Velvet forms a part of many or most summer hats and bonnets, or it trims them, mingled with flowers.

The newest "woven wind" tissue is of pale yellow silk, shot with gold, and takes the name of "sunbeam gauze."

Some American and many English mothers insist on short, very short skirts, for all their daughters under 14 years of age.

A simple belt, collar, and cuffs of gold or silver passementerie make the only trimmings of many lovely white commencement gowns.

Velvet and flowers and a little tinsel form the entire toque that is sent home with many dressy velvet-sleeved gowns, braided with tinsel.

Very pretty American calico frocks for piazza and house wear are made up with large cuffs and collars, guimpes and waistcoats of white pique, duck or butchers' linen, or ecru canvas.

Eucalyptus green cloth gowns, having velvet sleeves, collars and cuffs appliqued on to the cloth with gold cord braid in vermicelli or intricate Greek patterns, look well with turbans or capotes to match, and are suitable for any sort of daylight function.

Large quantities of deep blue and bright red American calicoes are sold for mountain and seaside dresses. The figuring on these bright and dark grounds are dots, sprigs, cross-bars, keys and Greek crosses in white. Then the trimmings are white braid, and sometimes the cuffs, collars, belt and pockets are of white pique or white duck.

A new cotton dress fabric, cashmere twill, is made to imitate wool cloth. The grounds of these stuffs are always cream tinted, while the floral designs are in delicate colors and cheme effects. These twills are not cheap goods, but are used indiscriminately for summer evening gowns, tea gowns, and morning robes. With velvet detachable cuffs and collars they present a rich and dressy appearance.

Black lace is the beautiful dress of the woman no longer young. It imparts a charm and dignity that no other fabric possibly can. But it must be of the finest and best in texture and design. The reseau or ground must be like the spider's most attenuated web, holding the figure as if suspended in air. Then, it must be worn in profuse falls, cascades, flots and draperies, and decorated with diamonds, or the best substitute, cut steel and fine jet ornaments.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributed to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the west and south where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the Tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

Tourists,

Whether on pleasure bent or business should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and ot forms of sickness. For sale in 50c and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.

Dr. F. B. Brewer's Success W Diseases.

[From the Kalamazoo (Mich.) Gazette. CHRONIC AILMENTS.—A small portion of suffering which humanity is heir to, arises from acute diseases. These yield at once to the ordinary practice of the schools, or they soon baffle all medical skill. But there is a class of complaint, with which men and women are afflicted, that without producing any apparently alarming symptoms, linger along for years perhaps, unless arrested, invariably sooner or later prove fatal. These are chronic diseases which Dr. F. B. Brewer makes, and has made for years, a specialty. And for the treatment of such complaints, there is probably no physicians of the present day more successful than he. He has made regular visits for years, and such has been his success in cases he has treated, that we can safely recommend him to those out of health."

On Thursday the 12th of June, Dr. Brewer may be consulted at the Park Hotel. He charges nothing for examinations.

LIQUOR FOR SOLDIERS.

SHALL THE BOYS IN BLUE HAVE THEIR DRAMS?

Grave Senators Give Some Time to the Discussion of the Question—Other Capital News.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—In the Senate the bill subjecting imported liquors to the laws of the several States was again taken up, and Mr. Morgan made an argument against its constitutionality.

Mr. Pugh argued in favor of the bill. Its defeat would leave the States in a most serious predicament. He believed that the States had the power (without legislation by Congress) to control the sale and use of intoxicants within their limits. The exercise of that invaluable right had been suspended by the decision of the Supreme court, but its existence had not been affected.

At this point Mr. Allison presented the conference report on the army appropriation bill.

Mr. Ingalls inquired what had been done in regard to the Senate amendment prohibiting the sale of alcoholic liquors, beer, or wine at canteens.

Mr. Allison said that the provision had been modified so as to read: "That no alcoholic liquors, beer, or wine shall be sold or supplied to enlisted men in any canteen or post-trader's store in any State or Territory in which the sale of alcoholic liquors, beer, or wine is prohibited by law."

Mr. Blair—I suppose that the Senator from Iowa means to be understood that the Senate conferrees found it necessary to yield to the House conferrees.

Mr. Allison—I do so wish to be understood.

Mr. Blair—And, of course, no one will fail to understand that this is an entire surrender of the proposition.

Mr. Paddock—I think it is within the bounds to state that nineteen-twentieths of the troops are outside of States and Territories where prohibitory law is in force.

Mr. Ingalls—The more this matter is studied the more obnoxious it appears to me. Either the control of the army, so far as the sale of intoxicating liquors is concerned, ought to be in the United States, or it ought not to be. Some soldiers ought not to be allowed to have access to the flowing bowl and the festive canteen and other soldiers denied it. The army ought to be subjected to one system of control. Congress ought either to say that all soldiers shall have an opportunity of getting drunk or that none shall have the opportunity. If the provision reported by the conference committee is not whipping the devil around the stump I must say that I never saw the process before.

A discussion in criticism of the phraseology in the substitute reported from the judiciary committee sprung up, in the course of which Mr. Edmunds had occasion to refer to Canadian and Kentucky whisky, and he said that if he was forced to drink either he would stick to Kentucky all the time. [Laughter.]

Mr. Blair moved to adjourn, remarking that the Senate was in no condition to pass a temperance bill. The motion was agreed to, and the Senate adjourned.

The House.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—In the House bills were passed as follows: Appropriating $125,000 for a national military park at the battlefield of Chickamauga; Senate bill donating Lake Contrary to the city of St. Joseph, Mo.; bill amending the act for the erection of an appraiser's warehouse in New York, so as to provide that the Secretary of the Treasury may erect the warehouse at any point within the collection district north of Liberty street on the West Side of the city.

A conference was ordered on the naval appropriation bill. The House then went into committee of the whole on the river and harbor bill.

On motion of Mr. Post of Illinois a survey was authorized of the Illinois river from La Salle to the Mississippi river, as recommended by Capt. W. L. Marshall, with a view to ascertaining what lands would be subject to overflow by the construction of a navigable waterway between Lake Michigan and the Mississippi river.

After making a few other changes the committee rose and reported the bill to the House.

Mr. Dockery of Missouri moved to commit the bill with instructions to the committee on rivers and harbors to report it back with the Hennepin canal clause stricken out. The motion was lost—yeas, 61; nays, 128.

The bill was then passed without division.

WILL SUMMER AT CAPE MAY.

The President and His Family to be Quartered on the Jersey Shore.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—It is nearly settled that the President and his family will summer at Cape May Point, N. J., either with the Postmaster-General, who has a cottage there, or in a cottage that is being specially constructed for that purpose. At all events Mrs. Harrison does not want to spend another summer at Deer Park, and she is known to be much impressed with the beauties of the Jersey seashore.

STRUCK A RICH GOLD MINE.

A Streak of the Precious Metal an Inch Thick.

DENVER, Colo., May 29.—A report reaches here from Alamosa that a wonderfully rich strike has been made in the Golconda mine, which is owned by ex-Senator Tom Bowen. A solid streak of gold an inch thick runs through the mine. Ten days ago a pocket was opened from which $200,000 has been taken.

Smuggled Opium Seized.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 29.—Custom officials have seized 310 cans of opium valued at $2,000 in a Chinese washhouse. The customs authorities claim they have positive proof that a number of the Northern Pacific employes, together with several Chinese, are smuggling large amounts of opium into this city.

Pears' soap secures a beautiful complexion.

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, in a speech at Brockton, Massachusetts, in which she reverses the supreme court's "original package" decision, says that if it had been a woman who possessed the senility to make such a decision she would have gone 10 miles to shake her." If Mrs. Livermore has what is called a woman's way of dealing with great questions, her heart is nevertheless right, and so if her methods are not the wisest she is yet entitled to respect for her courage and spirit of righteousness. It is better to be a little over indignant in a case of this kind than show a careless indifference.

BROKEN OUT!

How often do we see this on the faces of children and, alas, of people who otherwise are healthy? What causes it? Bad Blood. The thought is terrible; the trouble is worse. No ordinary help can remove it. It requires something unusual. Do not take cheap sarsaparillas or blood purifiers. You must have something that has proven its power in both Europe and America. General Wheatcroft Nelson, of London, says: "My experience in the English army, as well as in America, convinces me that nothing so thoroughly purifies the blood, or adds to the health, vigor and life, as Dr. Acker's English Blood Elixir."

This grand Elixir is sold by druggists in all parts of America. It is a good, pure, honest medicine. Try it to-day.

What do doctors know about corsets?

They know a good deal more sometimes than they dare give their patients the benefit of!

What are they afraid of?

Losing their patients. Many a woman would throw her doctor overboard sooner than change her corset.

What do women know about corsets?

The doctors and women together know all there is to be known. They all agree that Ball's is the proper corset.

You can go to your store and get it and wear it two or three weeks and get your money again, every cent of it, if you want it.

The store has a primer on Corsets for you.

THE FARM.

The "Seed-Ends" of Potatoes.

There will still be a good many late potatoes planted, and the question so often raised "Shall I plant the seed-ends?" will again come up for discussion. Many farmers advocate cutting off the cluster of eyes at the so-called "seed-ends" of the potatoes before planting, the assumption being that the tendency to produce small tubers is thus reduced. An experiment made at the Wisconsin Agricultural Station last season failed to justify this practice. The variety used was Beauty of Hebron, planted May 2d, the tubers nineteen inches apart in drills thirty-eight inches apart, ten rows fifty feet long of each kind of seeding. The seed tubers were of medium size, one set planted whole, the others with about three-fourths of an inch in length cut from the seed-end immediately before planting. The total weight of the seed planted of the two kinds was the same, exclusive of the rejected portion. The yields are here expressed in bushels: Seed-end not removed, yield per acre, merchantable potatoes, 132.1; yield per acre small ones, 117.4. Seed-end removed, yield per acre, merchantable potatoes, 97.7; yield per acre small ones, 120.7.

This experiment was made in a dry field, which probably accounts for the small yield secured.

It appears that the difference in favor of retaining the seed-ends is very considerable. In the ten duplicate series forming this experiment, the row in which the seed-end was removed yields less in every case. These results are inaccord with those secured at the New York Experiment Station in 1888.

Improved Condensed Milk.

Until within a short time the stewards on the large ocean steamers have used condensed milk exclusively. We are now told, says the Rural New Yorker, that many are using Norwegian canned milk, which has the merit of being all ready for use as well as being without change of form, and preserving the mixture of butter fats almost exactly as the product came from the cow. This Norwegian milk is prepared by a patent process which it is so simple that it is quite surprising that it ever could be patented or that it was not made use of long ago. The milk is heated to 110 degrees, then cooled to fifty degrees, then heated to 110 degrees again and again coooled, then heated to about 100 degrees and at once placed in tin cans and perfectly sealed. After being treated in this way, it is said to keep perfectly for months in tin cans, or even for several days after being taken from them.

Agricultural Notes.

Keep ahead of the weeds.

The secret of a large yield is a rich soil, good seed and thorough tillage.

A belt punch and a harness-maker's awl often come handy upon a well regulated farm.

The farmer of to-day requires more tools than the farmer of a generation ago because he employes less muscle. Take good care of them.

The crop which is most difficult to grow is the one that is the most profitable to the grower. It is the skilled labor that captures the cash.

A particular fertilizer may be beneficial on one farm or field and of no value on another, because that particular ingredient is not needed.

Corn cobs contain more potash than wood. If they are used for fuel, and their ashes saved, it will be the most economical mode of disposing of them.

Give your farm credit for furnishing you a home rent free and for a thousand and one necessaries and luxuries which you would have to pay cash for in the city.

Rust and rot do more for the implement maker in winter, than the wear and tear do in summer and rain and sun do more in summer, than the wear and tear. House your implements.

From November 1st, 1889, to April 1st, 1890, about 165,000 tons of commercial fertiltzers were sold in South Carolina, 126,567 tons for the same period in 1888-89; an increase of thirty per cent. over last year. This would indicate a large increase in the cotton acreage.

All over the country the farmers are more and more being felt as a factor in politics. The Farmers' Alliance is growing rapidly in Ohio. In Indiana the F. M. B. A. has an immense membership. A recent conference of leaders in various farmers' organizations in these two States was held at Cincinnati. It is understood that as a result of that conference, that all farmer organizations in those States will support for office only candidates who pledge themselves to support their principles. If candidates of other parties will not do this the farmers will put up candidates of their own.

THE ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Watering Plants.

Some plants require considerably more moisture than others, and while quite a number will make a very satisfactory growth with what they secure from the soil, with others it will be necessary to supply moisture. If commenced to supply water, it should be continued until a good rain. It is not necessary to supply every night; in fact a thorough watering twice a week will give much better results than to apply a small quantity every day. Thoroughly wetting the soil around the roots once will be of more benefit to the plants than a half dozen sprinklings over the surface. The best time for watering plants is just at evening, there is less loss by evaporation than there is at almost any other time, and the water has a better opportunity of getting down into the soil. The soil should be well stirred. This enables the roots to derive more benefit from the applications than if the soil is hard or rough. Then on the morning after the applications are given it will be a good plan to draw a light covering of soil over the surface. This will prevent evaporation and help to retain the moisture in the soil.

If a sufficient quantity of water is supplied to thoroughly soak the soil two applications a week will be all that is necessary.

With tomato plants or melon vines in many cases old tin cans with a very small hole punched into the bottom set by the plants and filled with water, replenishing whenever empty, is a good plan and will be less trouble.

Like nearly all other work it is quite an item, if it is once commenced to do thorough work while it is needed, or more damage will be done than benefit secured.

In many cases plants that require considerable moisture will thrive better if well watered before hot dry weather sets in, this will aid them to retain moisture in the soil and lessen the necessity of supplying moisture.

Restoring a Wornout Orchard.

In reply to a query the Rural New Yorker gives the following method for fertilizing a wornout, gravelly orchard on a yellow clay hill: This is a difficult problem to solve. If farmers would only prevent their land from being wornout by using the simple preservative methods of growing clover, using plaster and lime and plowing under clover seed at least once in four or five years, such requests as this would never need to be made. When land is worn out nothing can restore it but manure and time. It is the fable of the killing of the goose to get the golden eggs repeated. In this case it might be well to plough the ground and sow a bushel and a half of buckwheat per acre. If any wood ashes can be procured or a bushel of plaster per acre, we would sow it on the seeded ground. In September the buckwheat will be in blossom. Then we would hitch a chain to the double-tree and plough beam, and with the loop dragging in the furrow plow and turn under the buckwheat and leave the ground until the spring, then cross plow and sow half bushel of buckwheat per acre in May, and with one peck of clover seed per acre. The clover will probably "take," and as soon as the buckwheat is ripe it should be cut, leaving a stubble, which will still protect the clover. The clover should be permitted to fall on the ground and the next year should be plowed under and the whole process repeated, harvesting the buckwheat, however. The next crop of clover may be cut for hay or pastured. After that orchard grass seed may be sown.

Horticultural Notes.

Keep the raspberry bushes pinched back.

The grindstone will help wonderfully in the garden work if you let the hoe keep it company occasionally. Try it.

Have a mulch of some kind to keep the strawberries out of the dirt. Grass cut and put on while green will make a good one.

We believe it is best to plant the poles first, then the beans, when you raise limas, unless you have the improved bush variety.

You need not be in a hurry about planting beans; after the corn and potatoes are all in, and even under a good growing headway, will be time enough.

Grape vines should be cut back each year within a few buds of the old growth, but even when this is neglected most excellent crops of fruit are sometimes produced.

Every farmer should have a supply of grapes. Once well started the grape vine is long lived and productive. Set in good ground and trained to a trellis, or an old wall even, they are almost sure to produce fruit every season.

Don't plant beans with the supposition that they need poor soil to make a good crop. To be sure they may produce a paying crop where wheat or corn would not, but poor soil is not necessary to make them do well. If you want to use any manure a dressing of wood ashes will do good service.

By separating the States into groups the six New England States are credited with a forest area of 19,193,-028 acres; the four Middle States with 17,630,000; the fourteen Southern States, including Maryland and leaving out Missouri, with 232,800,000; the nine Western States with 80,358,-768; four Pacific States, 52,630,000; and the seven Territories with 63,034,-000. It will thus be seen that of the entire 465,655,859 acres of the forest included in this estimate the fourteen Southern States possess fully one-half.

LIVE STOCK AND DAIRY.

A Cheap Milk House.

Those who find it difficult or impossible to obtain ice will be interested in the following plan for a cheap milk house for summer use, suggested in "Lynch's Scientific Dairy Practice:" "Size inside 10x12 feet; outside, 12x14; one and one-half stories. A wall is built of brick, stone, or concrete. Excavate the earth inside the wall to a required depth, say from two to four feet, or even deeper, if good drainage can be secured. For a floor pack the earth solid, or better, make a concrete floor. Build an outside wall of upright boards, closely battened. Build an inside wall for a lower story of narrow, matched stuff, closely jointed and well nailed. The floor which separates the upper and lower stories should be also matched. This will leave between the two walls a 12-inch air space—a dead air space, as it were. The gables will be north and south with a door in each that may be opened to allow circulation of air in the upper story for ventilation. On the north and south faces make openings, one for each corner—say, one foot wide and four feet high. Cover these openings with fine wire gauze, and provide them with close-fitting slide shutters, that may be opened and shut at will. At sun-down these shutters will be opened to allow the cold air all night to circulate freely in the air spaces between the walls; and in the morning they will be closed to exclude the warm air of the day time from those spaces. The building will be covered in by an ordinary roof. A milk house of this description put up in California, though only eighteen inches below the surface of the ground, maintained an inside temperature sometimes nearly 30 degrees lower than that outside. It provided for the care in shallow pans of the milk of forty cows."

Again, another plan: A building located partly underground, with the floor from four to six feet below the surface and entered by an out-door stairway. It is usually built of stone and cemented, and sometimes a stream of water is led into and through it. Wood may be used only for windows, roof and ceiling. The ceiling may be of matched lumber and shellacked; or, if preferred, it may be lathed and plastered. This kind of house can be constructed very cheaply and will be well adapted for the use of a farmer having a small herd.

Live Stock Notes.

The cheapest food may not be the most healthful to feed.

Good to nail to the barn door: "Who enters here leaves pipe behind."

Have your hogs a good dry bed or a mud hole to sleep in these days?

Train up a heifer calf in the way she should go when she becomes a cow.

Did you ever see a hog that did not relish good sweet slop? Why then feed sour swill?

Don't keep matches lying round the barn loose, better have them in an iron or tin box.

Some people think a farm animal is like a postage-stamp—no good until licked. They are sadly mistaken.

Breeders of trotting horses have been breeding earlier and earlier each year, until the crop begins to appear on most farms soon after the first of January.

A French farmer states that white mustard fed green to old horses communicates to the latter quite a youthful energy, while removing from them all difficulty of respiration.

Prominent cattle men of Crook county, Oregon, have recently expressed the opinion that hornless cattle were better able to endure severe cold than those having horns.

When the cows are first turned into the pasture give them all the good hay they will eat at night. A good feed of dry bran night and morning, will add materially in preventing scours.

The premium boar with age loses his attractiveness, but this does not in any manner detract from his usefulness, and he should never be discarded or given an out-of-the-way lot, with careless feeding, on this account.

A cow owned by D. F. Appleton, of Ipswich, Mass., in three days less than a year, produced 941 pounds and 11 ounces of butter. The record she beat was 936 pounds and 13½ ounces, held by Landseer's Fancy, owned by Dr. Morrow of Nashville, Tenn.

"The best drivers are the most careful, and the best horsemen are those who are always on their guard," says the Horseman. "Many accidents occur from the capers of gentle family horses that have never been known to become frightened or to do anything coltish, and for this reason have been carelessly driven. People are always on guard when about horses known to be vicious, and the most dangerous kicks are often from usually quiet horses."

THE HOME CIRCLE.

The Good Housekeeper.

The housekeeper should never be in a hurry with her dinner. She should think beforehand what she is to get, and go about it in a practical manner, without becoming "nervous." If matters are prudently managed in the kitchen, she will have nothing to worry about. A wonderful simplifier of work is to have a place for everything, and, when it is used, to put everything back in its place. I sometimes wonder how many of the young ladies whom we meet with taper fingers and lily hands will make good, practical housewives. Many of them boast of their ignorance about household affairs, as if afraid it would lower them in the estimation of their friends to confess an ability to bake bread and do housework. A mother has no right to bring up a daughter without teaching her how to get a breakfast, dinner, and supper, and the different things which are requisite to keep a house tidy. She should be taught to give thought, care, and pains to housekeeping, so that her house shall be clean and healthful, and to be an intelligent, economical cook.

A woman should consider it an honor to be called a good housekeeper, and should keep mind and body in a condition to faithfully perform her allotted work.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given, that a pardon will be asked for Frank O. Dickerson who was sentenced May 26th, 1879, to imprisonment for life, in the state prison for complicity in the death of George Mack, whose death occurred July 14th 1878, at the town of Turtle, in the county of Rock and state of Wisconsin. That said pardon proceedings will be heard on Wednesday, the 11th day of June 1890; or as soon thereafter as the governor may appoint, at the city of Madison, Wisconsin.

Dated this 17th day of May, 1890, at Janesville, Rock County, Wisconsin,

F. W. DAY, Secretary.

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in; the spongy bones are attacked and frequently entirely destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results which have attended its use for years past properly designated Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure.

SUBJECT TO INFLUENCE.

We all are creatures subject to influence by our fellows.

If one neighbor whose judgment you trust, engage in an enterprise, you pay heed to his efforts in proportion as you respect his judgment.

We believe his statements in proportion as he has established a reputation for trustworthiness.

If two neighbors of good judgment engage in an enterprise, you pay—or should pay—double attention to their statements.

If three or four reputable, sound, solid successful, enterprising merchants in your city, or if as many of the leaders in the towns around, unite with a common approval of judgment after mature investigation, in the very same enterprise you should be satisfied that the enterprise they accept and offer to you, is well worthy at least your investigation.

This is precisely the situation with regard to the new system, undertaken by respectable and solid merchants in your vicinity, of reaching the humblest home with the greatest reference library which the English literature affords.

By methods and machinery but recently invented, a nine-dollar book is reproduced, practically as good and more durably, at a cost astonishingly low.

By the invention of new ideas in trade, which do simple justice to the cash buyer, this grand prize is offered you in a remarkable way.

The reputation, the intelligence, the pledge, of merchant neighbors, stand back of their offer to you.

No one claims to be "giving you something for nothing," nor to be selling anything "below cost."

But we do claim that we offer you the grandest prize in your business experience.

May party at Hibernia hall to-night.

Regular drill night Janesville Light Infantry.

Regular practice night of Bower City Band.

Don't forget the May party at Hibernia hall to-night. Tickets 50 cents.

The ladies of the All Souls church gave one of their suppers at the church parlors last night.

The home circle of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Blish has been brightened by the advent of a baby girl. All doing well.

A big trap shooting contest was held in Milwaukee yesterday and continues through to-day. F. P. Stannard is as usual at the head of the list.

The railroad bridge across the race is nearly ready for the timbers. The piles will be all driven to-day. The bridge across the river is nearly half way across.

Attend the adjourned meeting at the rooms of the Business Men's Association at 8 o'clock this evening. Matters of special importance will be discussed.

Attend the adjourned meeting at the rooms of the Business Men's Association at eight o'clock Thursday evening. Matters of special importance will be discussed.

The Postoffice will be closed to-morrow, from 10 o'clock a. m. to 5 o'clock p. m. in accordance with the regulations of the postoffice department.

C. E. BOWLES, P. M.

The merchants and business men will suspend business to-morrow afternoon between one and four o'clock in order to give all an opportunity to participate in the Memorial exercises.

At the Presbyterian church this evening the pastor will give the preparatory lecture and hold the regular quarterly meeting of the session. Those who wish to unite with the church are requested to meet the session at this time.

Last evening Miss Belle Heddles and Mr. George Wilson were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. C. F. Heddles, at Edgerton. The bride is a cousin of Mr. S. B. Heddles, of this city. Mr. Heddles and family attended the wedding.

Capt. Alex. Buchholz will formally open his grounds at Crystal Spring's Park, June 1st. The steamer will make her first trip at 10 o'clock, and every hour in the afternoon commencing at one o'clock. The Bower City Band will furnish music for a concert in the afternoon.

Remember the May party to be given at Hibernia hall on Thursday evening of this week, May 29th. A box of cigars will be given to some fortunate gentleman and a toilet set to a lady. Smith & Anderson's orchestra will play and it will be an all night dance. Everybody is invited.

The funeral of the late Mrs. M. Jones will be held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. John C. Spencer, 217 North Bluff street, at ten o'clock tomorrow morning. The Rev. M. Evans pastor of the First M. E. church, will conduct the services. The remains will be taken to Mt. Pleasant cemetery in the town of Janesville for burial.

The report was currently circulated on the street a few days ago that Mr. Wm. Morrison, who is camping at Geneva Lake, was dead, and there was quite a discussion in Masonic and Grand Army circles, as to the burial service. Mr. Morrison is somewhat lively as a corpse, and will join his comrades in the Grand Army procession to-morrow.

The Sutter Bro. are about to build a large tobacco warehouse, that will employ from one hundred and fifty to two hundred hands. They are undecided whether to locate here or in Madison. The matter will be presented at the Business Men's meeting to-night, and some action should be taken to secure the enterprise. With the new side tracks, there should be no trouble in securing a location.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The Last Jury Case of the Term Ended Yesterday Afternoon.

In the circuit court yesterday afternoon in the action of Thomas Scott against Samuel Holdredge the jury under direction of the court brought in a verdict for the defendant.

This case is the last to be tried by jury this term. Monday morning Judge Bennett will commence the trial of the cases to be tried by the court.

THE STARS AND STRIPES.

W. H. Sargent Post Surprised by the Woman's Relief Corps—Presented with a Flag.

Last evening the W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, G. A. R., held a special meeting at Post hall, to make arrangements for the observance of Memorial Day.

During the evening the post were most agreeably surprised by the Woman's Relief Corps. A recess was held and the ladies marched into the hall. Miss Ella Wills in behalf of of the corps presented Commander J. T. Wilcox with an elegant new flag, together with the following speech:—

COMMANDER AND COMRADES:—The ladies of the Relief Corps have realized for some time that the flag you have been using is in rather a dilapidated condition, and knowing that new flags were to be presented to the schools and hoisted on Memorial Day, they thought that in no better way could they express their appreciation of the many courtesies and favors you have always shown them than to procure for you the starry emblem of liberty. To me has been given the honor of presenting to you this flag, whose broad stripes and bright stars you so nobly defended. Long may it wave "o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Commander Wilcox responded with a few well chosen words, and accepted the flag on the part of the post.

Commander S. C. Cobb suggested "three cheers for the ladies", which were given with a will.

The presentation was a complete surprise to the members of the post. The flag is fourteen feet long, and will be first used on Memorial day.

MUNICIPAL COURT.

Thos. W. Clark, of Edgerton, Charged with Obtaining Goods Under False Pretenses.

A warrant has been issued in the municipal court charging Thomas W. Clark, of Edgerton, with obtaining goods under false pretenses. The complaining witness is John Copeley and the complaint alleged, that on the 15th day of August, 1887, the defendant did designedly and by false pretense and with intent to defraud, obtain from plaintiff goods, wares and merchandise in the shape of a stock of ready made clothing, boots and shoes valued at $4,600 in exchange for stock of supposedly equal value in the N. C. Deering Cattle Company. That Clark claimed to be an officer and stockholder in the company, and that be knew that the representations were false as he did with intent to defraud the plaintiff.

Clark was before the court and was released on $3,000 bail. His examination was set for four weeks from to-day.

PUTTING UP FLAGS.

The P. O. S. of A. Will Place Flags on the High and Central School Buildings.

Friday morning the Patriotic Order Sons of America will place flags upon the High and Central school buildings with appropriate ceremonies. The poles have been put up and all is ready to raise the flags.

They have extended invitations to the Grand Army of the Republic and Janesville Light Infantry to be present at the ceremonies, and a detachment of each company are expected.

The P. O. S. of A. will form at their hall on East Milwaukee street and march to the G. A. R. hall, where the Grand Army will join them. Then they march to the armory, meet the Light Infantry, and preceeded by the Bower City Band march to the high school. The presentation speech will be made by Pres. E. R. Inman, and the response by president of the school board, Ogden H. Fethers, after which the flag will be hoisted, and they will march to the Central school where the Light Infantry will fire a salute as the flag goes up.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Senator and Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy Celebrate Their Tin Wedding.

Yesterday afternoon Senator and Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy celebrated their tin wedding in a novel manner. They chartered the steamer Mayflower and together with a number of invited guests, about sixty-five, took a trip up to Burr Springs. Here, after landing an, elegant supper was served with tin cups and tin plates. Each guest was presented with a souvenir in the shape of a tin cup bearing the inscription, "1880-1890." The many friends of the host and hostess united in wishing them many equally pleasant anniversaries. The boat started at about four o'clock and returned in the evening.

THE BAND CONCERT.

A Large Crowd Listen to the Music at the Court House Park Last Night.

The Bower City Band concert at the Court House Park last night drew a large audience. The streets surrounding the park were packed. And not withstanding the fact that the band labored under a disadvantage by not having a platform to sit on the music discoursed was most excellent. In order to be properly heard, the band should be raised above the heads of the listeners. The park now is the most disadvantageous place in the city for such a concert. Members of the band are rapidly attaining proficiency on their various instruments, and it is hoped that concerts will be given regularly twice a week.

THE WEATHER.

For Wisconsin—Rain—Southerly Winds—Becoming Variable—Cooler by Friday Morning.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 67 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with south wind, At one o'clock p. m. the register was 82 degrees above zero. Clear with south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 53 and 55 degrees above zero,

Adjourned Meeting.

The adjourned meeting should be well attended at the rooms of the Business Men's Association this evening.

The committee appointed will be prepared to report on railroads and other matters of importance will be discussed.

The city has waited for years for the railroads to make a move that would result in benefit. The move has been made and the citizens should be enthusiastic.

Let the meeting be well attended.

ASSESSING THE DAMAGE

Appraisers Place the Side Track Damages to the North Main Street Residence Property.

WHAT THE NORTHWESTERN CO. IS DOING FOR THE CITY.

Memorial Day Exercises—Many Other Interesting Items Relating to the City and Its People.

During the past week, or since the work of putting in a system of side tracks has been in progress, the expression has frequently been heard, "Well, the Northwestern Company are left this time, and it serves them right; what have they ever done for the town? We could get along without them just as well as not."

It was stated in a public meeting recently that the company was taking out of the city annually $250,000—or one million every four years, and giving practically nothing in return, and the statement was evidently received with some credulity. The shabby depot and limited accommodations were cited as an argument against the company. This sort of talk followed by the work of the C. M. & St. Paul Co. in laying spur tracks has had a tendency to put the Northwestern Company to a disadvantage, and there are some people who would be pleased to see the company pick up its property and leave the town.

It would hardly seem that any man of ordinary business inteligence would fail to recognize the benefits secured to Janesville through its railway facilities.

What is the Northwestern company doing to-day for the city?

It is running nineteen passenger trains through the city every twenty-four hours, helping to make it so desirable as a railway center, that more than one hundred traveling men find it a desirable place for a home, and by their presence and support, contribute to the welfare of the city.

It gives employment to 200 men, demanding a pay roll of $13,300 a month, or $159,600 a year. The employes of the company are divided as follows:

	Men.
Conductors and brakemen	50
Engineers and firemen	60
Station and switchmen	15
Sectionmen	26
Shopmen	49
Total	200

All of these men live in Janesville, and very many of them own houses of their own, and a large per centage of this salary money finds its way through the various channels of trade every month.

It owns, at a low estimate, $100,000 worth of property in the city, paying its proportion of taxes into the state treasury, of which Rock county receives its proportion.

The receipts from incoming freight for 1889 handled over its own lines, were $81,597.37. The output of all freight including that from mills and factories, for 1889, was $43,100 97. Add to this the local passenger receipts, which at a liberal estimate will not exceed $20,000, and you have the gross receipts for 1889, of the Northwestern company, amounting to $144,608.34 or $15,000 less than the company paid to the people of Janesville for wages alone.

It is idle to talk that the Northwestern company or any other railway company will work against the interests of any town on their lines.

The men who handle these corporations are ordinarily shrewd, they know that the prosperity of a town or the success of a manufacturing industry contributes to their prosperity and self interest demands and usually secures their hearty co-operation.

The Gazette will state on good authority that there hasn't been a time during the past fifteen years, when the Northwestern company have not been ready to join the Milwaukee & St. Paul company in putting in a complete system of side tracks for the accommodation of Janesville shippers.

The paper will further suggest that while the system already secured will result in advantage to the city, that the result will be vastly more important if the track becomes a union track, owned and operated jointly by both companies. What we want as a city is all the railway facilities to be secured. If the Wisconsin Central or C. B. & Q. can be induced to come this way, so much the better; in the mean time let us appreciate what we have.

As our manufacturing industries develop and increase in importance, we shall be able to offer increased inducements for railroads. If the city takes on new life and doubles her population during the next four years, there will be no trouble in securing competing railway lines. Let us work unitedly for the general good.

This article is not written at the instigation or solicitation of the C. & N. W. Railway Company or anyone connected with it; neither is it prompted because of favors extended to the Gazette, for the paper pays liberally for every ticket procured of the company, and also pays regular freight rates on all merchandise received.

FRANKIE JONES' COMPANY.

Will Play at Lappin's Opera House One Week, Beginning next Monday.

Master Frankie Jone, who will appear at Lappin's Opera House next week, was once made the special guest and favorite of Col. Robt. Ingersoll, at Cleveland, Ohio. At one of the performances at the Grand, Col. Ingersoll occupied a box. The following from the Cleveland Plaindealer relates the circumstances. Frankie had been called before the curtain several times and the audience refused to be satisfied with his acknowledging their applause by a bow, insisted on another song. Sending word to the leader of the orchestra to play "Climbing up the Golden Stairs," Frankie appeared and sang that verse that rather pointedly referred to the atheistic Bob. The audience immensely appreciated the situation, and in his turn Mr. Ingersoll was obliged to acknowledge the thunders of applause directed towards his box. Going from his box behind the scenes the curtain was rung up and the famed lecturer and the youthful artist together came forward and received an ovation such as was never before witnessed in the Grand Opera house.

TOOK A TUMBLE.

Lou Barber, the Civil Engineer, Takes a Bath in the Race.

Mr. Lou Barber, one of the civil engineers in the employ of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company, took a little ducking in the race this morning. He was standing on a pile of lumber on the raft when the workmen hitched onto a pile on shore to raise it preparatory to driving. When the pile came down the bank it struck the end of the plank on which Mr. Barber stood. He took a double headed summersault in the air and landed on his back in the water at the edge of the raft. He climbed out without trouble but was compelled to wear his wet clothes all the forenoon. Sunday night at ten o'clock he received orders to come to this city together with the cheerful information that the train left in a few minutes. He was obliged to leave without getting a change of clothing. He took his ducking as a regular thing and remarked philosophically "Well, they'll soon dry in the sun. I didn't get my note book wet, and that is all I care about."

SOME IMPORTANT FACTS.

A Few Statements Concerning What the Milwaukee Company is Doing for Janesville.

The work of the Railway company is steadily progressing, and when completed it is safe to say that Janesville will have a system of side tracks equal to any city of similar size in the state. This removes the one great hindrance that has always been used as an argument against the city's prosperity. If the track is completed to the works of the Janesville Machine Company as it should be, it will be an easy matter to extend it at any time to the Monterey flats thus opening up as fine a manufacturing district as can be found anywhere, or the road could be extended across the river to the land controlled by the Land Company, thus giving both roads access to the district that has been the subject of so much discussion of late. The city is to be congratulated at all events on the side track system and if it does not result in permanent benefit and growth it will not be the fault of the railway companies.

THE HORSE RETURNED.

The Stolen Horse Taken Back to Belvidere this Noon by the Owner.

The owner of the horse found at the school house yesterday came up from Belvidere this morning and took the outfit back overland. The thief's name is not known. The horse belonged to the livery firm of Lane & Spencer and the thief hired it saying that he was a painter and wanted to look for employment. He started out and diligent search had failed to reveal the whereabouts of the outfit until it was discovered by Mr. Aiken yesterday. There is no trace of the thief. Mr. Lane, the owner, was accompanied by Assistant City Marshal Young, of Belvidere.

FOR SIDE TRACKS

A Committee Appraised Property on North Main Street this Morning.

This morning a committee consisting of Messrs. C. B. Conrad, I. C. Brownell and C. E. Bowles appraised the residence property on North Main street that will be passed by the North Main street side tracks.

The committee examined the property of Westley Allen, Lewis Tramblie, Alex. Buchholz, Miss Carlson and Robert Morris. The damage allowed was twenty per cent. of the value placed upon the property, and amounts were allowed as follows:—

Westley Allen	$160 00
Alex. Buchholz	270 00
Lewis Tramblie	270 00
Miss Carlson	360 00
Robert Morris	200 00

Some of the interested parties announced their willingness to accept this sum, but settlements have not yet been made.
